

OVERVIEW

Jane Franklin Hall is a diverse society of student residents, staff, and community members. This code aims to provide a simple and clear statement of expectations for residents towards all members of the Jane community.

This Code does not attempt to provide a detailed and exhaustive list. Instead, it sets out standards of expected behavior providing a broad framework tied to the values of Jane Franklin Hall.

It applies to all residents when attending the college or participating in activities off college premises as part of a representation of the college.

CODE OF CONDUCT

It is expected that as a resident you will:

- a. Familiarise yourself with college policies and procedures pertaining to your rights and responsibilities as a resident.
- b. Familiarise yourself with the University of Tasmania's policies and procedures and your rights and responsibilities as a student at the university.
- c. Treat others with fairness, respect and courtesy and act in a manner that is not threatening, harassing or intimidating or likely to jeopardise the safety of others.
- d. Demonstrate commitment to a zero-tolerance stance on harassment, sexual harassment, violent behavior, and sexually offensive actions and criminal activities.
- e. Respect the staff of Jane Franklin Hall and behave with courtesy and understanding in all forms of communication with staff members.
- f. Display respect for the Council Members, Fellows, Chaplains and Alumni and behave with appropriate and courteous manners towards them at all times.
- g. Appropriately use and respect the college grounds and property and act with honesty and integrity if damage to college property occurs.
- h. Act at all times with honesty and be willing to learn and to take ownership of mistakes and to have the courage to request help when you need it.

- i. Be open and accepting of others' opinions, beliefs and background and to seek understanding without judgment of others.
- j. Behave courteously and accepting of others in and outside the Jane community regardless of race, age, abilities, gender alignment or sexual orientation.
- k. To act as a positive member of the Jane community and where possible endeavor to contribute to the strengthening of the Jane community and its values.
- l. Challenge yourself to seek new and beneficial opportunities and to encourage and support others to learn about themselves, others and the world.
- m. Have the courage to act with integrity at all times, to model good behaviour to others and to challenge inappropriate behaviour.
- n. Embrace leadership opportunities positively as a chance to have a lasting positive influence, to inspire and to empower others in the community.
- o. Participate in college events to your level of comfort and play an active role in supporting the participation and hard work of others in the Jane community.
- p. Respect the privacy and personal boundaries of others in the Jane community and share the communal and common areas with courtesy and fairness.
- q. Take responsibility for your own learning in the context that learning is the outcome of a collaborative partnership between the University of Tasmania and students.
- r. Embrace ideas and new knowledge and encourage a culture of learning and academic discovery.
- s. Know the requirements of your course and progression rules and seek timely advice and assistance from College or University services, as required, to maximise successful progress.
- t. Act honestly and ethically in the production of all academic work and assessment tasks. Acknowledge shared ownership of ideas in group projects
