Life at

Jane Franklin

Hall

Living at Jane is about more than having a bed: it's an experience that transforms young adults into the people that they strive to be and forges ties to a unique community that extends worldwide. It's an experience that they can attribute to their success in life and one they'll never forget.

We are proud of our strong history supporting students to develop their academic, social and professional achievements. Many remain connected to Jane and enrich experiences we offer our residents and Non-resident members throughout the year.

We aim to harness students' strengths, help them to grow into University life and make a positive contribution to the lives of others and the world around them.

Scholarships

at Jane

in 2024

In partnership with benefactors from around the world, Jane Franklin Hall provides tens of thousands of dollars annually to its residents in the form of scholarships.

Scholarships are crucial to achieving our purpose, allowing talent and motivation to be the guiding principles for entry into Jane and not personal circumstances or financial constraint.

Scholarships are awarded on specific criteria for each scholarship. For some scholarships, the amount of money awarded varies according to monetary interest rates and the generosity of particular donors.

Scholarships are paid as a remission of fees and students are encouraged to apply for as many scholarships as possible.

Who is Dr Karla Fenton OAM?

A Fellow Emerita of Jane Franklin Hall, Dr Karla Fenton OAM was born in New Norfolk and completed 62 years in medical practice before retiring in June 2016 at the age of 90.

After completing her war service in the air force, Dr Fenton retrained as a doctor, graduating from Melbourne University in the early 1950s. Karla's medical career then took her to Malaysia where she became the physician in charge of looking after officials, including the Malaysian Royal Family. She returned to Tasmania, joining the Tasmanian Psychiatric Service in 1969.

In her distinguished career Dr Fenton worked in adult psychiatry, the Combined Children's Centre, Youth Counselling and was Superintendent of the Alcohol and Drug Treatment Centres at the John Edis, Royal Hobart and Royal Derwent Hospitals. She also worked at Clare House in Child and Adolescent Psychiatry, was Acting Regional Psychiatrist on the North West Coast and was a Forensic Examiner for the Sexual Assault Medical Services. A concern for the effects of drugs and alcohol on young people and veterans saw Dr Fenton instigate and coordinate the Maturity and Youth (M-Y) program for drug affected families in the 1990s.

The Anzac of the Year Award 2005 (Tasmania) and the Senior Australian of the Year (Tasmania) in 2004 were awarded to Dr Fenton and she continues as a Patron of Soroptimists International Hobart and a Convenor for Assisted Dying Group. She is also featured in the 'Women of the Island: Stories from Tasmania' online project.

Meeting her husband Professor David Elliott at Jane, Dr Fenton has been involved with the College since the 1970s. She has been a valued benefactor, supporter and friend, offering a Travelling Scholarship (since discontinued) and establishing a trust to award an annual prize to a high-performing international student. Dr Fenton's significant contribution to the College was recognised by the naming of the new Dr Karla Fenton OAM wing after her. Now her son, Douglas Fenton-Lee, himself a distinguished surgeon, is honouring his mother by donating this new scholarship. We could not think of a more fitting tribute to someone who continues to inspire us.

"Receiving a Jane Franklin Hall scholarship has meant that I can be financially independent after completing Year 12. This scholarship also means that I can fully immerse myself in the Jane Franklin Hall culture and community, as I do not have to work so much. My favourite part about Jane is the friendships I have made. Living at a residential college makes it really easy to forge and maintain new friendships. Receiving a scholarship from Jane has made a world of difference for me."

How to apply

Apply for Jane Franklin Hall scholarships via application forms available online at <https://jane.edu.au/fees-scholarships/scholarships/>

The following scholarships must be applied for through the University of Tasmania website at <http://www.utas.edu.au/scholarships>:

- Hilary and Alan Wallace Scholarship in Medicine
- James Fenton Memorial Scholarship

Applications for the 2024 calendar year close on 31 October 2023, except for the Jane Community Scholarships which close at 9.00am on 18 September 2023.

Selection process

To be considered for a scholarship at Jane Franklin Hall, students must have applied for residency of Jane prior to 9.00am on the 31 October 2023. The exception to this is for applicants for the Jane Community Scholarships, who must have applied for residency before 9.00am on 18 September 2023. Those who have submitted an application for a scholarship but have not submitted an application for residency at the College by the due date will not be considered for a scholarship.

The Jane Franklin Hall Scholarships Committee meets in October, late November and in the second week of January each year to determine scholarship recipients. Successful applicants are notified by e-mail as soon as practicable after those meetings, although it is possible that some recipients may not be informed until the beginning of Semester 1 2024. The exception to this is for applicants for the Jane Community Scholarships who must attend an interview with the Scholarships Committee in early 2023 with a view to successful recipients being offered scholarships in October 2023.

Selection of the successful recipients is undertaken by assessing all those who applied for scholarships. Students who do not apply cannot be considered even if their results were higher than those received by the scholarship winner.

Scholarships applicants are encouraged to apply for as many Jane and University scholarships as they are eligible for.

The Committee's decisions are final and no further correspondence will be entered into. Unfortunately, due to the tight timeframes we work on, unsuccessful applicants will not be contacted.

All scholarship recipients must be residents at Jane in 2024. Withdrawal from the College will mean forfeiture of the scholarship.

Unfortunately, due to the nature of funding for scholarships, deferrals of scholarships are not permitted.
